Foreword

When we reach the end of our high school years, we have reached a summit which affords us a better view of the world. Attaining this summit has been, by no means, an easy task. During our three years climb, we have met many challenges which at first appeared insurmountable, yet we have always found ways to conquer these challenges. The results of these efforts have made our high school years truly worthwhile. From our present peak, we find that we may observe the world from a higher vantage point and that our horizons of life have been vastly widened. Unlike the pleasures of the expansive views which vacationers enjoy observing from mountain tops, the practical values of the horizons we have widened during high school will remain with us throughout our lives. This does not mean, however, that in the future we will not meet greater challenges or will not be able to widen our horizons ever further. There will always be more challenging and higher peak in life for us to meet and conquer, and our high school education has truly prepared us for this.

In putting together this yearbook, we have endeavored to show the many challenges we met as we went about widening our horizons through social activities, through athletics, through school organizations, and most important of all, through learning. Each day of high school opened countless valuable experiences which have greatly enriched our lives. In later years, as we look through the pages of this book, we will be truly grateful, often for the first time, for these many opportunities to widen our horizons.

Widening Horizons Through School Life

Only Steve Nathan and Dave McDowell could pose like this!

What are Carol's parents so pleased about on Patron's Evening? In the office here are Mr. LaCombe, Mrs. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DuFour, Carol DuFour, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Creal.

In the cafeteria, however, everyone seems to forget his hunger and perfers to talk to his friends.

Eager to get to lunch, everyone wishes he were first in line. Standing in the middle of the hall, the hard-working monitor will have to wait until everyone else has eaten before he can leave his post.

Miss Mable seems on her way to a touchdown in this exciting game.

But, Mother, we do need more money!

Attempting to make punch for the Soph Hop, these frantic parents scramble about the kitchen.

"Swing your partners!" is the call in the gym on Fridays.

Our first assembly—our first successful venture.

"One more sound and no library," says Study Hall Master, Mr. Van Der Voort.

Wilfred Smith is in high conference with Mrs. Lamb, guidance counselor.

Kurt takes the second fall from the mop.

Widening Horizons Through Special Events

Committee Chairman of the Senior Ball are John Whitney, Miss Sarah Adriance, Daveen Hansen, Richard Derby, Mack Dean, Amanda Reinhardt, Stephen Cohen, Barbara Bosworth.

By the look on John Worster's face anyone can tell that the Senior Ball was a dreamy success, but it took a lot out of the general chairmen, John Worster and Kathy Reardon.

Senior

Tete-a-tete before getting into the swing of things.

Ball

Eager to start the gay evening, John and Earl check the girls' coats.

The music was good, the decorations were excellent, the girls were pretty—the dance was a success.

"And remember, music came into the world to give pleasure."

Our Town

by Thornton Wilder

Progress of the rehearsal brings a smile to the face of Muriel Stark, director.

On these pages we present the Senior play in rehearsal.

Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize-Winning play, Our Town, shows the life of ordinary people in an ordinary town. A down-to-earth play, Our Town is also profound and thought provoking.

In her last speech Emily, the lead, says of man's effort to comprehend life, "They don't understand much, do they?"

Our Town was produced through the efforts of many people. Barbara Bosworth and Joan Aurelia were very successful as business managers, while Carole Singer and Carol Ann O'Keefe were the chairmen of the costumes committee. Publicity heads were John Whitney and Ellen Winer.

"Now, Julia, there's no sense in going over That again!"

"What do you say, folks? What do you think?"

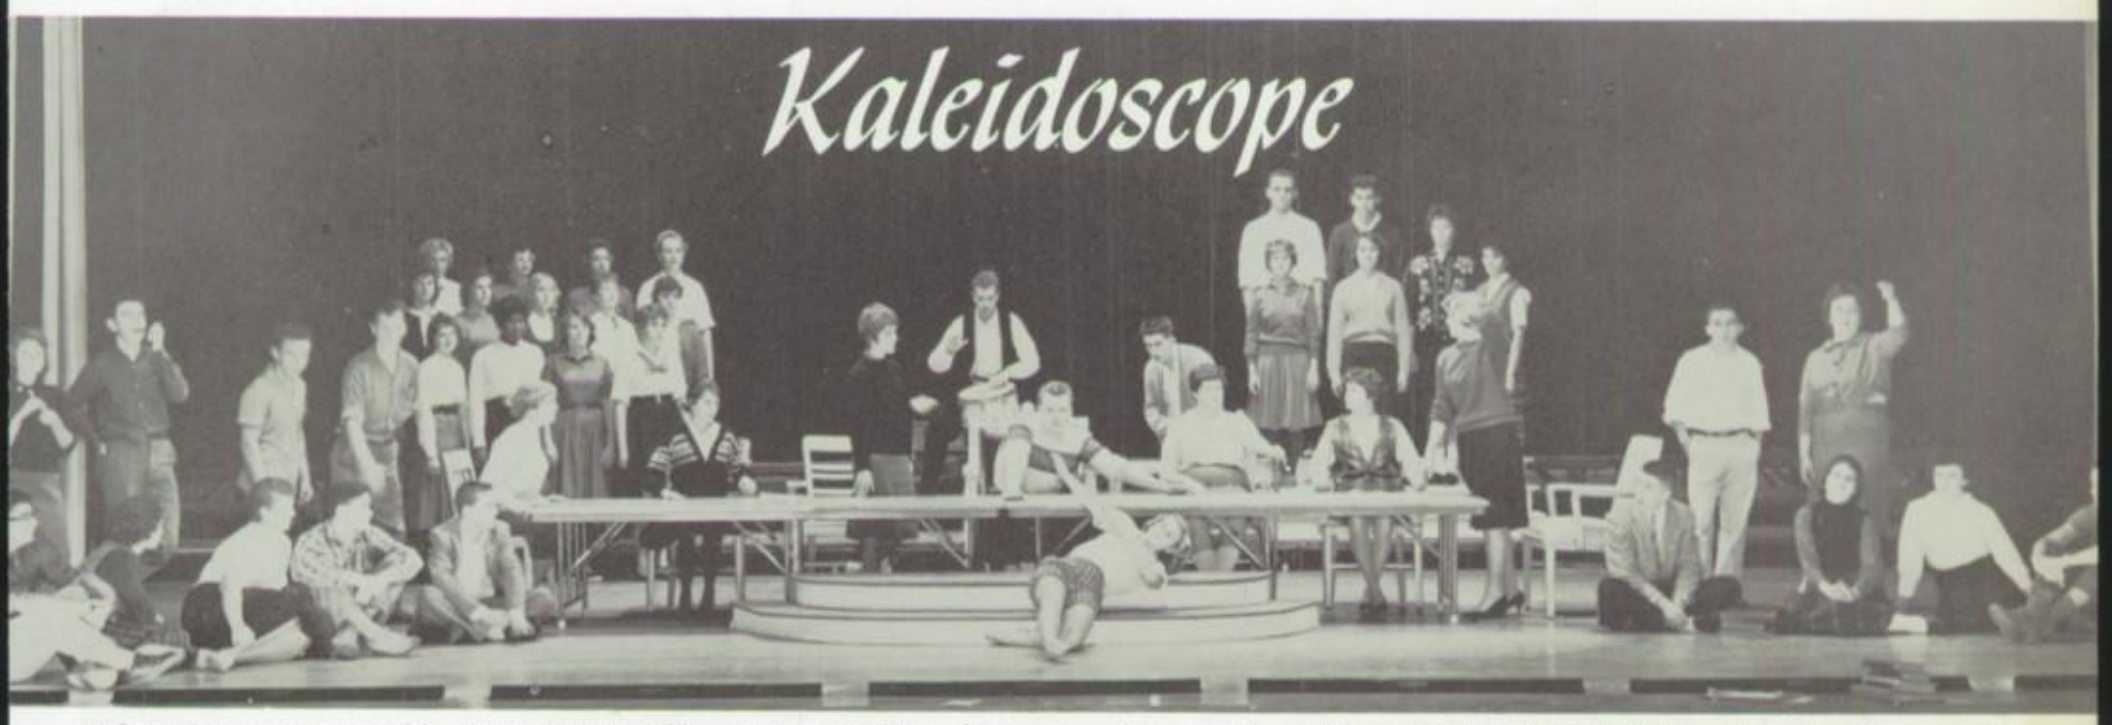
Kaleidoscope



Kaleidoscope, an assembly presented by the senior dramatics class, was very unsual and entertaining; it included a dramatization of "The Congo" by Vachel Lindsay, a presentation of "The Six Queens of Henry," an excerpt from "South Pacific," and various pantomimes.

Beneath apple blossoms are our lovely queen and her court: Daveen Hansen, Karen LaMay, Joan Kokoletsos, Sonja Persson, flower girl Kate McNairy, Queen Debbie Liddle, last year's queen Joanne Spector, crown bearer Dick McMillen, Susan Keene, and Barbara Bosworth.

Apple Blossom

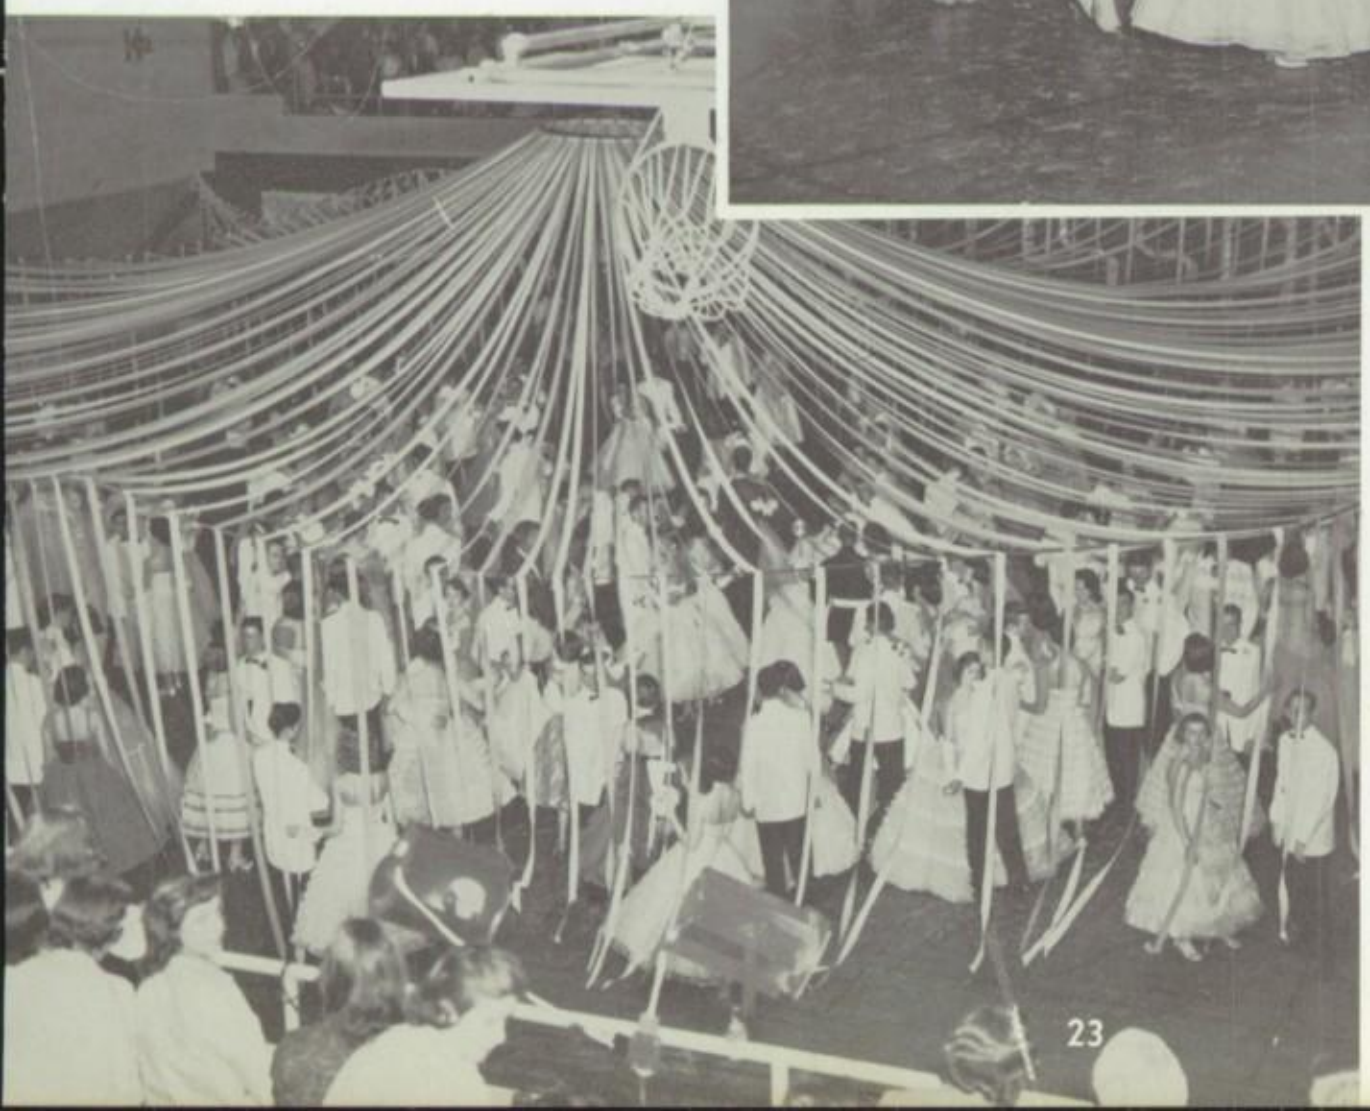
Our hardworking co-chairmen Sonja Persson and Tim Robinson supervised the tremendous undertaking of running the Prom.

Carrying out the theme in ingenious ways, were the corner chairman: Dennis Vogel, Barbara Caswell, Stephen Nathan, Susan Keene, Mack Dean, Barbara Wilson, Lawrence Nassivera, Barbara Bosworth, Stephen Cohen, Barbara Aronson, and Gary Charlebois.

Look! Mr. Van Der Voort is caught by surprise as he directs the Grand March.

These pensive promenaders are wondering which one of the lovely attendants will be crowned queen.

Time



Onlookers admire the dancers waltzing to the music of Ray Nelson's orchestra.

Drama Night

The floor clears of junior and senior teen-age dancers as Harry and Zelma exhibit excellent rock 'n' roll form.

Our beatniks, relaxing during their eventful night, are Stuart Lazarus, Gretchen Herschleb, Sara McGee, Lynn Parker, Priscilla Van Wirt, Dick Edmonds, Mary Graves, Helen Cowles, and Paul Ringwood.

The audience was held spellbound throughout the interesting mystery, "The Phantom Gentleman." Seen here are Phil McDowell, Susan Collin, Barbara Caswell, Mary Ringwood, and collapsible fireplace.

Senior Hermine Parker, with her fine voice, added much to the Drama Night with her specialty rendition of "If I Loved You."

Tickling the ivory, John Whitney was the life of the Junior-Senior Dramatics Club's Teen-Age Party.

Ooo! The "hero," played by Phil McDowell, walloped the villain, played by Mike Clarke, and the audience cheered with enthusiasm in the Junior-Senior Play The Phantom Gentleman.

Leslie Davis, a junior and Amanda Reinhardt, a senior, teamed up to present a modern dance fantasia specialty.

Mrs. Stark and Mack work on "The Teenage Party's" leading man.

Our budding young actresses put on the final touches of makeup before the show.

The dressing room, before the big night, is always a very busy place.

Kenny Baker, Drama Night engineer, just doesn't have enough arms and ears.

The drama Night cast takes a curtain call before an approving audience.

Happy sophomores prepare for their first big dance of the year while Time hangs heavy on the hands of Maxine Long, Arnold Alkes, and Wilbur Wright.

Another intermission?

Have Daveen and Peggy bribed their dates to buy coke?

The intermission party in the cafeteria may have been quiet, but these three seem to enjoy it.

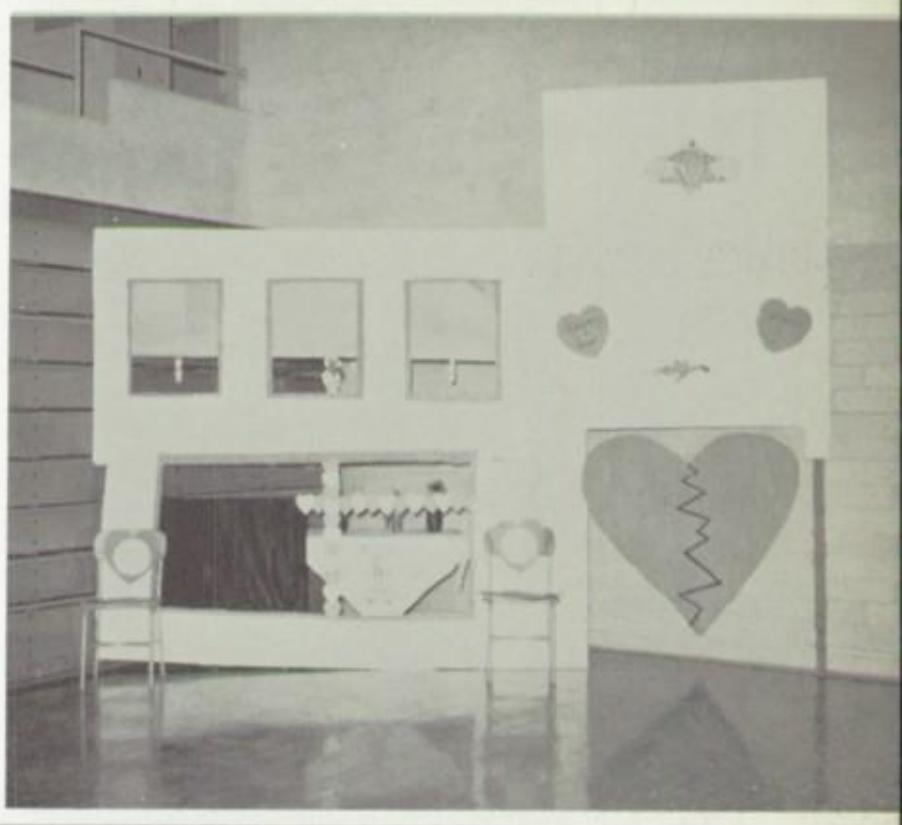
Time out between sets for a chat with friends.

Grateful students thank chaperons. Putt, however, seems to have other interests.

Here we catch a glimpse of spirited spinsters and their dates through the band stand decorations.

Mr. Gericke's Preludes warm up before the first set.

In this corner the decorators have carried out the valentine theme by a marvelous replica Heartbreak Hotel.



Swing

The dance floor may have been crowded, but this didn't put any damper on the fun at the Spinster Swing.

The members of the orchestra are, violins: John Whitney, Karen Mazer, Carol Matthews, Elaine Hillman, Barbara Bulova, Barbara Liebman, Joan Aurelia, Pam Trimbey. Betty Viehman, Priscilla Van Wirt, James Duers, Zoltan Gaal, and Kristine Kenny; flutes: Marilyn Crannell, Fay Rivers, Maxine Long, Kathy Carter, Mindy Saidel; clarinets: Sandy Lee Phillips, Prudy Selleck, Gary Martin, Virginia Dean, Wendy Glass.

Mr. Maurice Whitney calls the orchestra to attention as a rehearsal begins.

Football

The Glens Falls High School Indians finished the season with three victories, one tie, and two losses in Northern Conference play. They also suffered two losses at the hands of strong capital district teams, against whom they made a better showing than the scores indicate.

Sparked by seniors such as fullbacks Mike Canale and Orla Bentley, quarterback Bruce Geroux, end Abe Norman, and tackle and place kicker co-captain Dick Derby, the Indians posted a three game win-streak at mid-season. Then, after a defeat by powerful La Salle, they tied St. Mary's Academy in the City Series game.

For his outstanding performance in this game, co-captain Geroux received the Gerald F. Donnelly Award. Honorable mention for this same award went to Mike Canale and to Bruce Coon, who, along with Jerry Potter, was outstanding throughout the season as a defensive guard.

Captained by Dave Eastwood and Neild Waterman, the Junior Varsity had an extremely successful season, indicating many varsity victories in the future. Their only loss was a one-point defeat at Corinth.

At the opening jump of the Corinth game, Jim Streeter taps the ball to Dick Derby.

J.V. Basketball

Losing only one game in conference play, the JV's also won the Northern Conference. Their overall record of 14 wins and 4 losses was outstanding, especially considering that two of these losses were by a total of six points to strong class A Mont Pleasant. This year's Little Indians were, KNEELING: Chuck Westfall, manager, Joe Carusone, Dean Howland, Phil St. Clair, Dick Streeter, Scott Alexander, Jon Hurwitz, John Weber. STANDING: Gerry Chandler, Nile Rogers, Dave Clark, Coach Harold Williams, Ken Seeber, Ket Roberts, and Pat Wright. Missing from the picture are Mike Smith, Steve Craig and Ken Kenny.

Jim Streeter sinks a free throw in the Fort Edward Game as Dick Derby and Dave McDowell needlessly attempt to get into position for the rebound.

Cal Tucker exhibits his ball-handling skills at the expense of some taller Mont Pleasant players.

When the Indians trounced Whitehall by the record breaking score of 103-39 in the last game of the regular season, they posted their forty-first straight Northern Conference basketball victory as they went to their third undefeated championship. This year's overall record was an outstanding 17 wins and one loss. The one loss was a two-point overtime upset by Saratoga in a non-league game. During the season, the Indians compiled a total of 1242 points for an average of 69 points as compared to the 828 points scored by the opposition for an average of 46.

Playing his fourth year of varsity ball, Captain Dick Derby led the team in all fields, including 126 field goals made, 264 rebounds, 66 assists, 124 foul shots taken, 88 foul shots made and shooting percentages of 50 from the field and 70 from the foul line. Dick's total of 340 points for the year made him the third high scorer in the conference and brought his four-year total up to 1,220.

This team was very far from a one-man team, however. Dave McDowell and Jim Streeter, two more big men, were very valuable for their rebounding and shooting abilities. Jim's jump shot put many a game on ice. Junior Cal Tucker, who was second in the team scoring and assists, displayed dazzling ballhandling throughout the year. Cal and Bruce Geroux, a play-maker and a dependable man to have on the court, provided the necessary back court combination. Versatile Gary Prevost was the player who always proved himself valuable in a clutch. On many occasions he came into the game to take the team out of a tight spot. Other valuable substitutes were Mike Demas, who with Derby led the team in shooting percentages, Bill Dunham, Abe Norman, John Kokoletsos, Dennis Vogel, and Chris Hallenbeck.

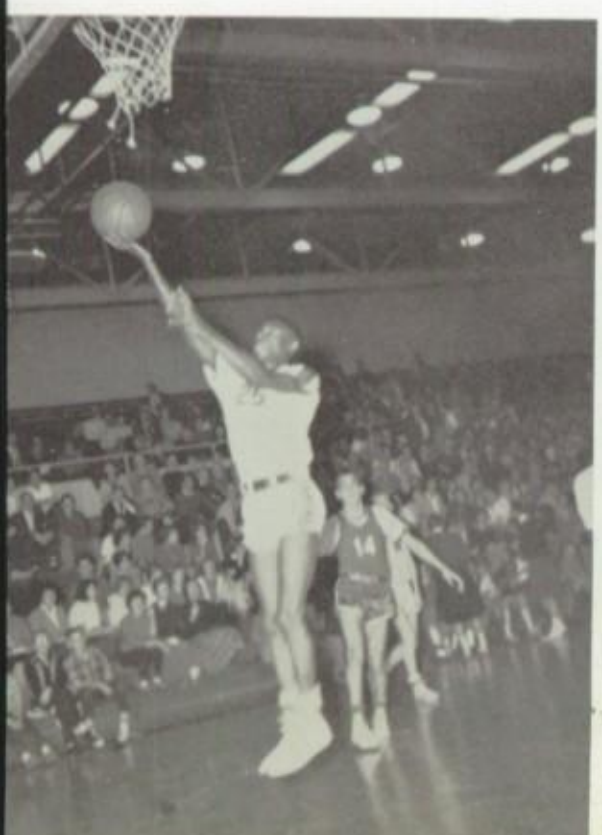
The Indians began their year by a 77-55 defeat over Saratoga, the team which later upset them at their home court in Convention Hall, a building which seems to have a jinx on Glens Falls. The other two non-league victories were over Mont Pleasant, a much larger Class A school. Included in the 14 conference victories were two substantial wins over St. Mary's, which made the Indians City Series Champions as well as Northern Conference Champions.

Despite the efforts of three Corinth netmen, Dick Derby drives in for two of the twenty-six points he scored in the game.

Cal catches the defenses flat-footed as he scores on a fast-break against Mount Pleasant.



Falling through the basket is the final point of the Hudson Falls game which the Indians won, 46-38.

Sparked by such veterans as Terry Gates, John Carusone, and Dick Derby with respective batting averages of .329, .297, and .288, the Glens Falls Indians captured the City Series and tied South High for second place in the Northern Conference. Winning the City Series was especially significant as it meant defeating St. Mary's the Northern Conference Champions, in two out of three games. The Indians' league record was five wins and two losses, but their overall record was eight wins, seven losses, and one tie—the additional defeats coming mainly at the hands of Class "A" schools. Leading the team in runs batted throughout the season were junior Dick Derby and sophomore Mike Demas. Every Indian victory found either Gary Prevost or Jim Streeter, both juniors as the winning pitcher, with Prevost collecting five wins during the season and Streeter three. The junior varsity under Coach Reginald Shultz had an extremely successful season, compiling a record of ten wins and one loss, the loss being a one-run defeat.

As the record shows, last year's track and field team greatly improved as the season progressed. In winning the Saratoga Invitational, the Indians also captured the 880 relay trophy, and at the Glens Falls Invitational, they won both the 440 relay trophy and the mile relay trophy. The successful climax of the season, however, came when Glens Falls decisively copped the Class B sectionals. In this all-important meet, Irwin Kantrowitz placed first in the broad jump, Pete Van Garderen won the low hurdles, and the 880 relay team of Van Garderen, Wayne Carlton, Mert Mock, and Kantrowitz topped that event. Winning second places were Captain Bill Burnell in the 100-yard dash and Dave McDowell in the 880-yard run.

Wrestling

Coach Backer is explaining some of the rules of the clean sport to our Wrestling squad before a match.

The boys are exercising to strengthen their back and their necks. A strong neck comes in handy in a tight spot.

Joe and Tom learn how to maneuver the opponent into a pin while getting into shape.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Our Varsity cheerleaders, Debbie Liddle, Daveen Hansen, Kathy Reardon, Karen LaMay, Pam Trimbey, Jane Greenberg, and Pat Selleck, lead the fans in the cheers that spur our team on to victory.

J.V. Cheerleaders

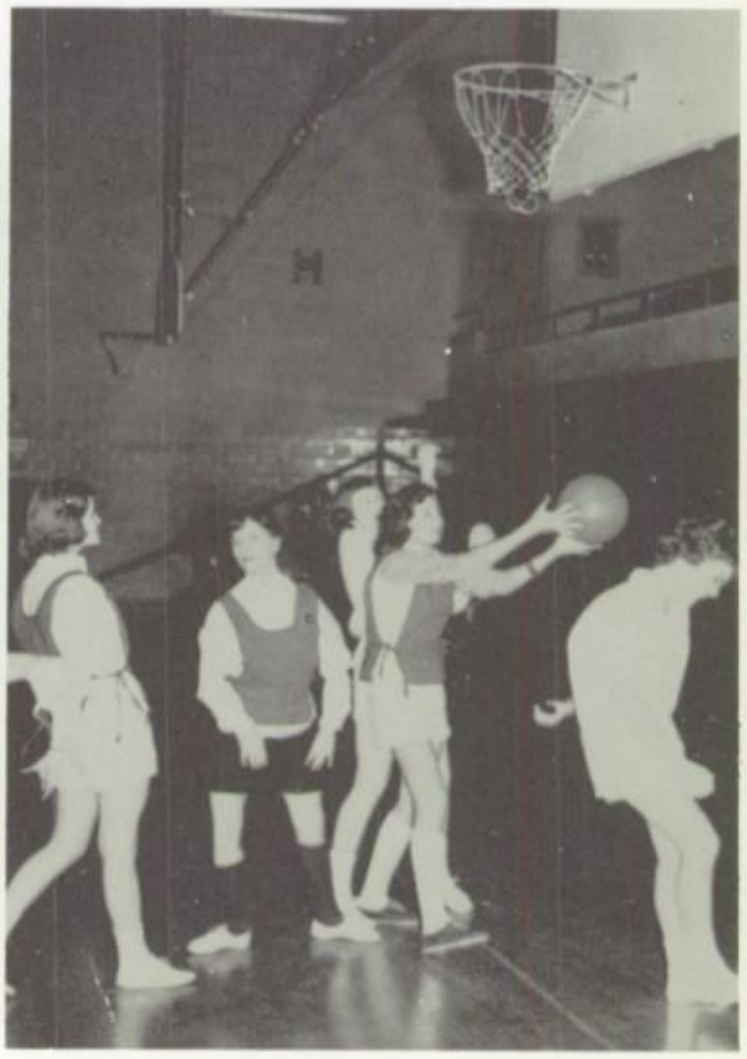
Our cute Junior Varsity cheerleaders, Sherryn McLaughlin, Kristine Kenney, Faith Brand, Fay Hill, Gwen Warner, Lee Binley, and Anne Hallenbeck, lead the cheers that help our Junior Varsity team to their many impressive victories.

Boys' Intramural Champions

Room 210 had a basketball team which probably could have placed at least second to the Glens Falls Indians in the Northern Conference. They went undefeated to win the intramural championship. Its members were, KNEELING: Joe Girard, Howie Chandler, Terry Gates. STANDING: "Coach" Cafaro, Doug Bloomfield, Mike Canale, and Gary Charlebois.

Girls' Intramural Basketball

Players and/or spectators avidly watch as two feminine hoopsters struggle for the ball in a tense moment of the game.



Taking a smashing rebound off the head of one of the opposition, Judy might be about to score.

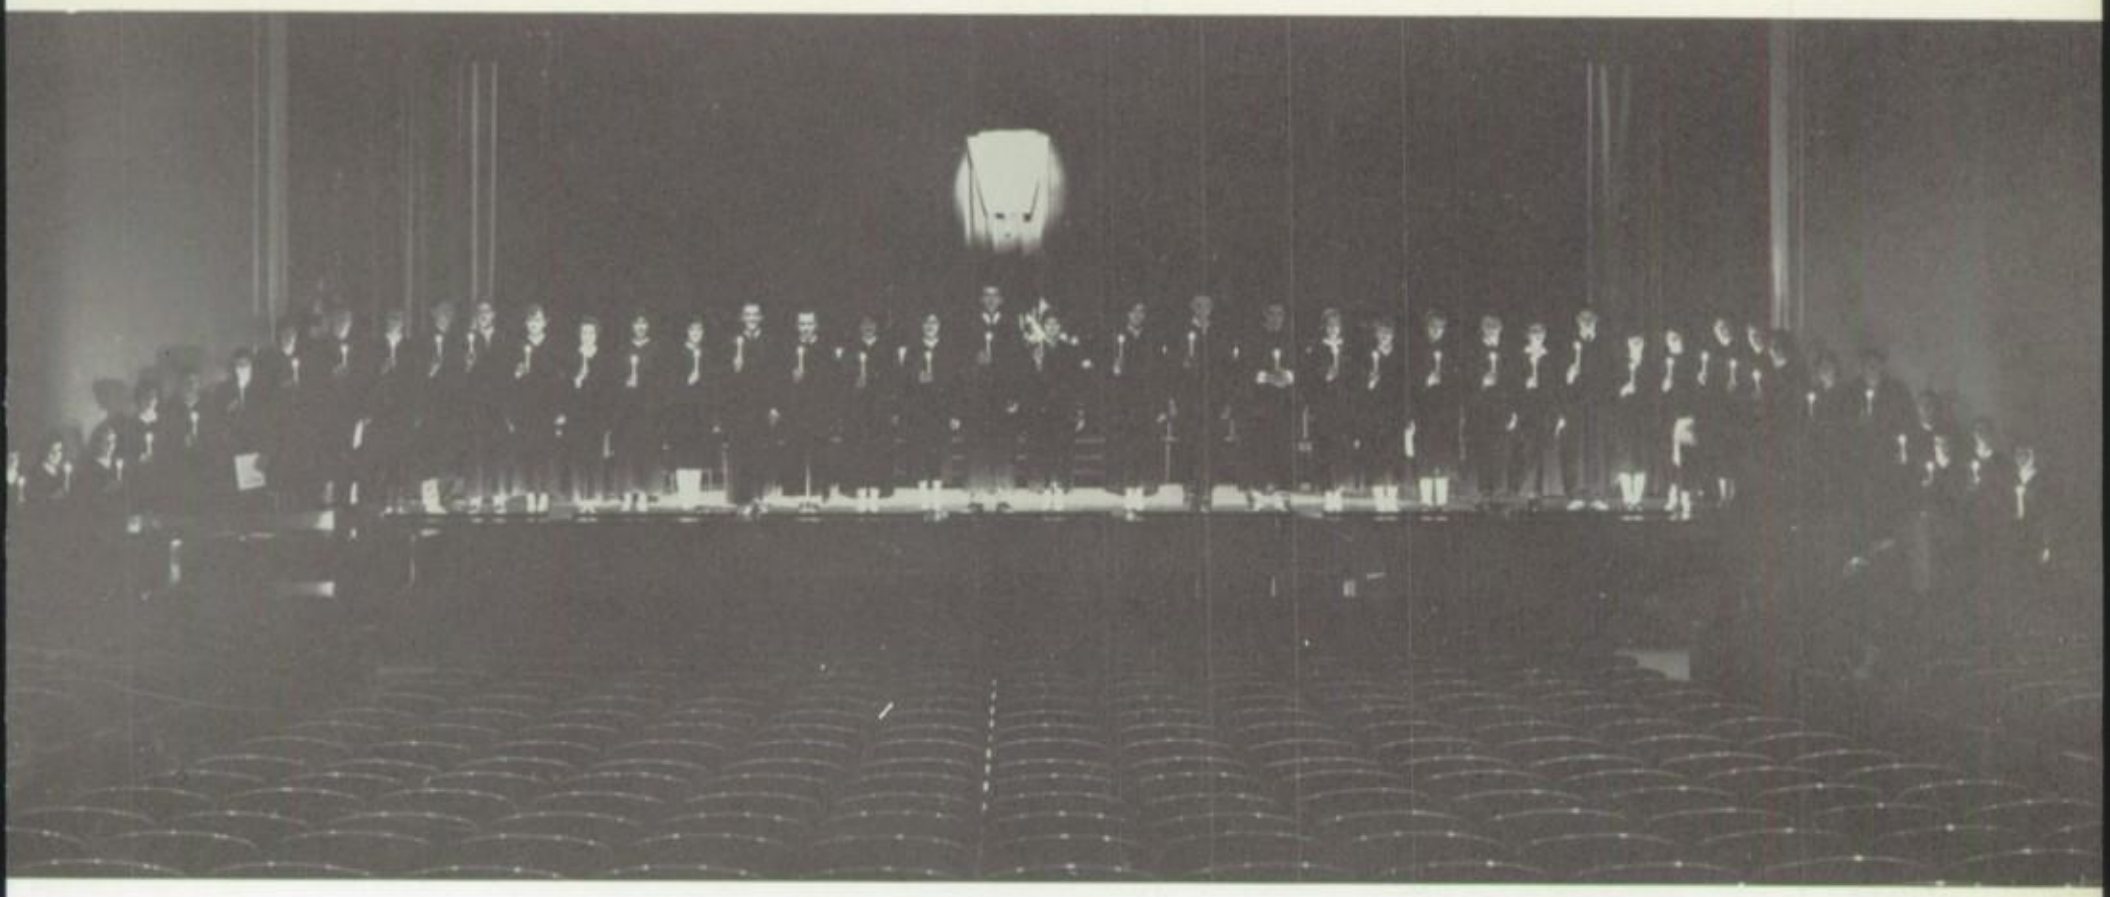
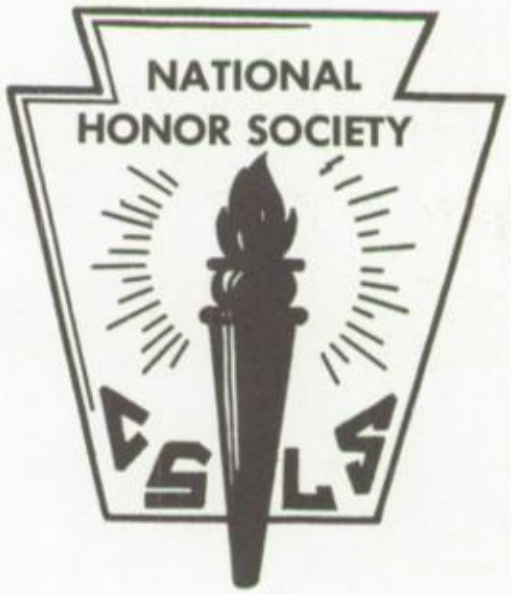
Membership in National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed on a Glens Falls High School student. A high degree of scholastic achievement is essential to qualify for membership. To be inducted in the spring his junior year, a student must have an average of 3.7 or above. In the fall of the senior year, the prospective inductee must have at least an average of 3.4. To qualify for membership in the spring of the senior year, one needs an average of 3.2. Scholarship, though, is not the only criteria in determining one's eligibility for membership. The student must seek to attain those qualities of character that will enable him not only to lead, but to serve his home, school, and community. We look to these members of Honor Society to light the way in the never-ending search for knowledge.



At the climax of the Honor Society assembly, the members, with their candles aglow, begin the traditional march from the stage through the auditorium.

These officers of the Honor Society were chosen by the members of the club as being those who best represented the ideals of Honor Society.



The torch of the Honor Society emblem symbolizes the light of knowledge. Also represented are the initials of the basic ideals of the honorary organization: character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Programs for the Robert S. Buddy chapter of the Future Teachers of America were interesting and varied. For the November meeting, seven of the members who had been practice teaching in the grades presented a panel discussion on their classroom experiences. They also discussed the value of the different reading groups within an elementary class, the types of problems and words taught in arithmetic and spelling, and the increased emphasis on world history and scientific knowledge since they themselves were in the elementary grades. December was a busy month. On the 4th, the club was represented by three members at a joint meeting of FTA clubs in the area at the Queensbury School, where they heard Miss Zoraida Weeks. On the 5th, seven members represented the club at the Delta Kappa Gamma Christmas Tea for the Future Teachers of ten high schools, held at the Country Club.

COLLEGE PLANS. By February 1, seven senior members of FTA had already been accepted by the colleges of their choice. Martha Minster was granted a 4-year Merit Scholarship of $4,000, to major in Public School Music at the Eastman School of Music, University of Rochester. Colleges of Education had accepted Sheila Howard and Billie Blackman (Albany), Holly Lester (Buffalo), Carole Singer and Carol True (Plattsburgh), and Patricia Winchell (Geneseo).

DOUGLAS B. ROBERTS
Superintendent of Schools

Dr. Roberts became Superintendent of Schools at exactly the time the Class of 1960 entered its sophomore year, making this the first class to complete its three years in Glens Falls High School with Dr. Roberts in this position.

While he is, perhaps, not known personally by a large percentage of our students, his efforts reach directly into our daily work and have done much to enrich our school curriculum. This is evidenced by the "honors classes" which were originated just this year, the Improving the Teaching of World Affairs program which was launched in our school with Dr. Robert's encouragement, and the opening the Kensington Road School.

Indeed, we have been very fortunate to attend high school in a school system which has progressive administration.

In Memoriam

MISS MARION M. E. BROADBENT

Adviser to the Class of 1960 as juniors, as well as teacher of German and history, Miss Broadbent contributed much to our high school life. We all knew her as a sincere friend who was interested in every individual, both in and out of the classroom. She was always willing to help with any problem, no matter how large or how small. The death of this fine teacher was a great loss to the school, and especially to our class, with which she had been so closely associated.

and Faculty

William H. Brown
Principal

The three years the Class of 1960 has spent in Glens Falls High School is a small part of the thirty years which Mr. Brown has been principal here. In these three short years, however, he has made an important contribution to our lives. Indeed, he has been the friend and adviser, as well as principal, to every high school student. We thank you, Mr. Brown, for helping us prepare for our lives as future citizens.

Checking over important school business are Dr. John Morgenstern, school psychologist; Miss Phyllis Anderson, secretary to Mr. Cymbalak; Mr. William H. Brown, principal; and Mrs. Robert Clements, secretary to Mr. Brown. In the background are student office assistants, Pat Selleck and Joan Rosenberg.

Widening Horizons Through Classes

Here, honor chemistry students rush to finish their tests before the bell rings.

Miss Bazinet's study hall settles down for a few minutes so we can take a picture.

In Mr. Cubbin's English IV class, students eagerly attack an exercise from their text books.

Mr. Reid shows his distributive education class an example of a well-arranged showcase.

Mrs. Grout gives Hope a helpful hint in this busy sewing class.

Lucky Kathy, her paragraph has captured the approval of Miss Hayes as well as the class.

The boys in woodshop watch attentively as Mr. Grant explains how to sand a piece of wood.

A steady eye and a steady hand are needed in order to be a perfectionist in mechanical drawing. Jim Bulman seems to have his eye on something else.

"Algebra is easy to comprehend if you are able to grasp the fundamentals," adds Mr. Boyer in his advanced algebra class.

Mr. Whitney seriously conducts these earnest musicians through a rehearsal of Beethoven's Egmont Overture.

Students never look as posture conscious as they do in typing class. Hey! Ray, get those eyes back on your work!

These conscientious French III students are breezing through another one of Miss Cromie's French exams.

Best Wishes to the Class of 1960

Best wishes to each of you for success, health and happiness.

You know now how important education is. You realize that knowledge is power . . . accomplishment . . . and one of life's biggest joys.

The quest of knowledge is inherent in mankind. Besides the advantages of attending courses in institutions of higher learning, it is equally important to keep abreast of the times, of life, of the future. One complements the other. That is why we commend you to your daily newspaper, where facts and opinions are another form of knowledge and information.

Read your newspaper; be informed; keep learning.

LEARN TO SAVE

Regular savings can be your KEY TO SUCCESS.
Through it, you can accumulate money for your college education . . .
for clothes, travel . . . for thousands of things you may want or need in the years ahead.

We at First National Bank will consider it a privilege to be the bank for your savings.
Whether your account is large or small,
you can be sure of a warm welcome.

Remember — there's no better time than today to start saving for a happier future.
